

Major Hitebrant Will Ride "Laddie" As Gift From Local Batteries.

Impressive and Inspiring Presentation of Favorite Horse To Retiring Major Was Accompanied by Regular Review of Troops.

FITTING TRIBUTE

Probably the Only Horse I Will Ever Like, Declares Major in Accepting "Laddie."

The immense drill hall at the Kingston army on N. Manor avenue was in complete darkness, save for a single spotlight which was directed upon a horse wearing a gleaming white bridle to match its whitened hoofs; in the gloom of the room stood a soldier who was receiving the plaudits of a company of men who had come to know and honor him; from the darkness over a loud speaking system rang the voice of Capt. C. N. Behrens, First Battalion Adjutant of the 156th Field Artillery, New York National Guard, cutting the darkness with these words: "Major, we take great pleasure in presenting to you 'Laddie,' the only horse you ever liked and the one you rode during your service with this unit." At the mention of his name the horse pricked up his ears. Maybe he knew that a kind friend of many years standing was to be his master and owner, and that he was not to be sold at auction as many of his fellow animals had been when the guard was motorized.

So with the gift of "Laddie" and an impressive review, snappily executed to martial music, Major O. R. Hitebrant, retiring commander of the First Battalion, received the tribute of Headquarters Battery and Combat Train and Battery "A," units of the First Battalion stationed at the Kingston army, the major's home post.

The tribute, which took place Tuesday evening, was in the form of a regular review with all of the military glamor and accoutrements. The enlisted men wore partial dress uniform, the extreme head preventing dress coat or barracks cap. Maneuvers were executed with precision and in perfect detail as each individual man bent to the enjoyment of giving the retiring commander as perfect a review as possible.

The major, accompanied by Capt. Behrens and Lieut. Carlton Eckert, Plans and Training Officer of the staff, approached the drill hall to find the two batteries lined up in company fronts and at "attention."

The major took his position as battalion commander in front of the men, Capt. Behrens called for the reports, the order was relayed by Lieut. Eckert and "all were present or accounted for." During this time Capt. C. S. Preston, also recently resigned, was given the honor of being attached to the reviewing staff, and took his place behind the major.

Capt. Behrens then called "Present Arms," the men came to a "Halt," and the strains of the "Star Spangled Banner," resounded across the reviewing field. As the national anthem came to a close the battalion adjutant called the men back to attention and Major Hitebrant began the inspection, accompanied by the reviewing staff. A waltz was played over the public address system during this time.

Again Capt. Behrens' voice rang out, "Pass in Review, Four Right—March."

The two batteries swung into quadrants down the hall making a column left at the far end and coming to a company front of platoons as they passed the reviewing stand.

Back in position the batteries were given "at ease" and the adjutant paid a tribute to the retiring commander. Recollections were had of the first camp, 12 years ago, and of the service and good times enjoyed since by officers and men. As the captain said, "The officers and enlisted men of the two batteries, and the army employees take pleasure."

Sergeant John F. Rouse, U. S. Army, led "Laddie" from the stalls into the drill hall and the major had his first latching of the present from his men.

"No other tribute could be quite as great or could I appreciate it quite as much as the gift of 'Laddie,'" said Major Hitebrant. He recalled many good times enjoyed and added "he is probably the only horse I will ever like." No one explained the major, save Capt. Preston who had recently released, could appreciate the feeling as of that time as the realization comes that he is severing connections with the army after years of duty.

Major Hitebrant spoke of his interest in the enlisted men, a remark reinforced by those men, and he reminded them that while he was now on the retired list he would be present on many occasions and that he would visit the units as camp commandant.

He said he would check up on the food served the boys at camp and if it were not the best he would place his old army sergeant (Capt. Preston) in charge. The major then again thanked the troops for the gift.

Remarks were made by Capt. Preston, Capt. J. F. Rouse, on behalf of

Rain, Cool Air Relieve Nation After 12-Day Heat Siege; State Death Toll Continues Rise

Over 3,000 Dead in U. S., 131 in State, But End of Slaughter is in Sight as Cold Air Sweeps in From Hudson's Bay Region—State College of Agriculture Issues Statement That Even Generous Rain Cannot Undo Damage Already Caused Some Crops.

Showers and Cold Air Predicted for West

Chicago, July 15 (AP)—Scattered thunderstorms over the western north central states and a continued influx of cool air from the Hudson Bay over the Great Lakes states were predicted for today and tomorrow by Forecaster J. R. Lloyd today as the drought ridden middle west received a measure of relief from its record breaking 12-day heat wave.

The break in the drought, which brought nearly an inch of rain to Springfield, Ill., and Green Bay, Wis., was due to the mass of cool air from the north, Lloyd said. The progress of a similar mass from the northwest was halted in the central part of Minnesota and at the Iowa-Nebraska border.

Townsend Curbed as Convention Opens At Cleveland Today

Cleveland, July 15 (AP)—A convention-floor battle was in prospect today over an announced drastic revision of the Townsend pension organization setup which considerably curbed the authority of the movement's founder, Dr. F. E. Townsend.

As some 15,000 delegates prepared to open their second national convocation, state managers said they believed control of the board of directors should be given them instead of to "citizens' auxiliaries," a national advisory board composed of one member from each state, named at Townsend state conventions.

Dr. Townsend nodded assent from time to time and corrected others as the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, self-styled leader of the share-the-wealth forces of the late Senator Huey P. Long, read the plan to newsmen.

The original board was appointed by the movement's founder and enlarged by vote of the board. A total of 15 persons would comprise the new board, which at present has a membership of 11. The corporate name of the organization, the Old Age Revolving Pension, Ltd., would give way to the Townsend Recovery Plan, Inc.

The elderly pension chief said "for the time being" he would retain his controlling financial interest in the Prosperity Publishing Company, which published the Townsend Weekly.

The Rev. J. Vint Laughlin of Philadelphia, manager for Maryland, Delaware and eastern Pennsylvania, said an attempt would be made to sway Dr. Townsend from his announced decision.

Meanwhile, a movement opposing any merger of the Townsend forces with a third party was set on foot by 400 members of the Florida delegation. The Minnesota delegation followed suit. Cohen predicted that scores of delegations would join them today.

Dr. Townsend spoke against a Townsend third party this year, declaring "It is out of the question as far as I'm concerned. But eventually a third party is the only solution in this country. After the November elections we Townsendians can begin definitely thinking of one."

The Townsend goal of $200 monthly pensions for the aged and resultant prosperity for everybody which Townsend contends is bound to follow, was uppermost in the minds of most delegates, both "voting" and "listening."

Among the officially stated "great objectives" of the convention is "to put the full strength of the Townsend movement into the coming national election" and "to give final endorsement and full support to a totally non-partisan way to the approved candidates for congresses and senators."

Candidates on the "approved" list were to be announced sometime before the convention closes Sunday.

Elise Rosenthal, 15, of 88 Haverbrook avenue, arriving from her home since Monday, is being sought by her relatives and the police. She is said to be suffering from a nervous condition. A relative said today that he suspected she may be staying with friends who are asked to send her home as her mother, Mrs. Sadie Rosenthal, is ill because of being upset over the disappearance of her daughter.

Battery "A," and by Lieut. J. A. Stoddard for Headquarters Battery. The function closed as an enlisted man stepped to the microphone and sang "Boots and Saddles," a reminder that with the reorganization of the major the clamorous horse drawn units faded to the modernization of trucks.

Following the formal part of the affair, the enlisted men and officers joined in an informal party.

Chicago, July 15 (AP)—Rain and cool air hovered today near the last strongholds of a record-breaking 12-day heat wave which took more than 3,000 lives.

An early morning downpour at Springfield, in Central Illinois, and breezes which dropped the mercury into the high 70's in the Chicago area signaled a break in the wave in the last of the four hardest-hit states to be relieved.

Already scattered storms yesterday had driven down the temperature in Michigan, where more than 540 had died, and in Minnesota, where the toll was at least 560. Cool breezes slowed the slaughter in Wisconsin, scene of more than 363 deaths. These states, with Illinois—where there were some 350 deaths attributed to heat—had furnished more than half the nationwide total.

Relief in the form of showers resulting from the movement of cold air masses out of the northwest and the Pacific coast was forecast today in Missouri, Kentucky, Ohio, Oklahoma, Indiana, Arkansas, Nebraska and West Virginia. The prediction was "cooler" in Iowa, where concern was felt for the corn crop.

Showers were expected to complete the rout of the death-dealing heat in Wisconsin. More rain was in prospect in Michigan and Minnesota.

En route to Bismarck, N. D., to direct a cleanup of the drought wreckage in the states where the aridity was most costly to crops and livestock, Resettlement Administrator Rexford C. Tugwell and four aides boarded a train at Chicago.

He said he planned to "make a personal study of drought conditions in the Dakotas and to get the resettlement offices in strategic points functioning properly."

In Minnesota, Farmers said the rain had freshened grain crops and revived hopes for corn in many sections, but not generally throughout the state.

Rain was badly needed to save corn in Nebraska and Iowa.

As heat relief impended or arrived last night, the nation counted a staggering total of more than 1,000 fatalities, directly or indirectly attributable to high temperatures, in a single day.

For a time yesterday, before rain drove down the mercury, harassed police and medical authorities of Minneapolis were forced to handle heat death cases at the rate of three every minute, comparable to conditions in the influenza epidemic of World War days. The same comparison was made by morgue attendants in Chicago, where the dead numbered upwards of 249.

The heat wave's parting shots included new all time high official heat records in Davenport, Iowa, 112; Springfield, Ill., 104; Peoria, Ill., and Duquoin, Ill., 110; Minneapolis, 108; La Crosse and Madison, Wis., 108; Columbus, Ohio, Indianapolis and Fort Wayne, Ind., 106.

Hudson's Bay Air

Forecaster J. R. Lloyd at Chicago said the cool air which bathed Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota originated in the Hudson's Bay region and that while it might lose much of its effect in passing through the masses of hot air, showers were probable throughout the heat belt.

The heat-conquering rainstorms were not without terrors of their own.

Rains accompanied by high winds damaged property at Norwood, Minn. In New York a violent storm damaged property and brought electric current to two persons from a broken power line.

A thunderstorm crippled utilities in Connecticut and one person was drowned when a sail boat was capsized.

Clinton, Ill., was cut off from neighboring cities as a rain and hail storm beat down trees and poles, blocking highways and damaging crops. All telephone lines were down.

At Canton, Mass., Henry H. Clayton, veteran meteorologist, who predicted last winter's sharp cold wave in the Midwest more than a month in advance, said today, "The worst of the drought is over." "According to the best data I have," the 75-year-old forecaster asserted, "the coming months, until fall at least, should bring an increase in rainfall."

State in Cooler.

(By The Associated Press.)

Temperatures dropped slowly throughout New York state today, but the death toll from the eight-day heat continued to climb.

Fourteen deaths yesterday brought the total number of victims of the weather toll to 131. They included persons who drowned while attempting to swim relief from the torrid temperatures and others who died of heart attacks and other ailments aggravated by the heat.

At least 49 of the total deaths occurred in New York city.

Fair and cooler weather was predicted for today.

Breckinridge Throws New Ordinance Drafted Support To Landon As Restricting The Use Of Result Of Topeka Talk Storm Water Leads Here

Boiling Democrat, Arch Foe of New Deal, Sees "Lasting Good" in the Election of Landon and Knox.

DEMOCRATS BUSY

Meanwhile New Dealers Press Onslaught Against G. O. P. and Party Nominees.

Washington, July 15 (AP)—The Landon-Knox forces received the aid of an ally from the ranks of the Democrats today, while New Dealers pressed on with their attack on the Republican presidential nominee.

Henry Breckinridge, Democrat whose antipathy to the New Deal led him to oppose President Roosevelt in several presidential primaries, announced he would vote Republican in the fall election.

The New York lawyer made his declaration of support for Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas and his running mate, Col. Frank Knox of Chicago, after a conference with the governor at Topeka.

In his statement he asserted the election of Landon and Knox "will accomplish lasting good for the country."

Observers, recalling Alfred E. Smith's threat to "take a walk" and opposition to the administration expressed by Smith, former Governor Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts, Bainbridge Colby, former secretary of state, and James A. Reed, former Missouri senator, pondered what effect the Breckinridge move will have in the ranks of other anti-New Deal Democrats.

G. O. P. Criticized.

While the Republicans moved ahead with their campaign plans, W. W. Howes, Democratic national committeeman and assistant postmaster general, criticized the Republicans.

In a keynote address before the Democratic state convention at Pierre, S. D., Howes declared Landon was selected by the American Liberty League, and described him as "the type of candidate that can get lost in a crowd of three."

He declared America "is either going forward with Roosevelt or backward with Landon."

Howes also assailed "big business" and "larger newspapers," adding that "every newspaper in the United States, whether it is for Roosevelt or not, carries the greatest advertising for Roosevelt every day on its financial page."

John D. M. Hamilton, Republican chairman, invaded New England yesterday, telling Republicans at Bangor, Me., that Landon's election "will mean the return of common sense to government and the return of government to the American people."

While the Republicans were concentrating on politics in Maine, President Roosevelt spent a perfect jachting day off that state's coast, later dropping the Seawanna's anchor off South Brooksville.

Amid the activities of the major parties, the convention of the major plan organization got under way today in Cleveland. Before the sessions opened a group of Dr. F. E. Townsend's associates met and developed a plan to alter the organization.

Townsend now has the power to name his own board of directors for the pensions body. Dr. Clinton Wunder, eastern regional director, argued in favor of transferring this authority to the national advisory board on the ground this would be more Democratic.

Townsend himself, discussing pensions, declared to reporters that it is up to the convention delegates to decide whether to support the Union Party presidential candidacy of Representative William Lemke.

Conference of Signatories

Paris, July 15 (AP)—Authoritative French sources said today France and Belgium had agreed to a conference of Locarno treaty signatories in Brussels July 22, despite Italy's refusal to participate without Germany and Great Britain's hesitation.

(The Locarno treaty, designed to establish the security of western Europe, was signed by France, Belgium, Germany, Great Britain and Italy.)

Charles Corbin French ambassador to Great Britain, was instructed to tell the British their agreement to include Germany in the Locarno parties does not mean French approval, since the decision is to center primarily around Adolf Hitler's denunciation of the European mutual security pact.

Plumbing Code of This City Is Amended To Limit The Ranning of Storm Water Leads Into Sanitary Sewers.

OTHER MATTERS

Gregory Reports Cooperation in Enforcing the Prohibition of Gas Heaters Unconnected with Flue.

The Plumbing Board met in joint session with the Board of Health, Tuesday night, at the city hall, to vote on the new ordinance drafted by the Health Board last month to limit the running of storm water leads into sanitary sewers, and both bodies adopted it unanimously.

Members of the Board of Health present to vote on the ordinance were Mayor C. J. Heiselein, Dr. A. L. Hill, Dr. Clarence Voss, Dr. Harold Rakov, and those of the Plumbing Board, Gus Koch, C. Lester Legg, Charles Gregory and Joseph Kruszewski.

Previous to last night's meeting, the two boards adopted the ordinance separately, but had to pass on it together in order to make it legal under the city charter provisions.

During the joint session, the two boards also voted on the adoption of an amendment to an existing ordinance requiring the filing of bonds by plumbers.

The board of health also carried on its regular routine meeting of the month, receiving the reports of the several officers and discussing matters pertaining to health conditions here.

The resolution adopted last night, amending the plumbing code follows:

Resolved, that the Plumbing Code of the City of Kingston be amended, and it hereby is amended as follows:

That an additional section be added to Section 20 as follows:

Section 20-A—Drainage of yards, areas and roofs; all roofs and paved areas, yards and courtyards shall be drained into storm water sewerage systems, or combined sewerage systems, but not into sewers intended for sanitary sewerage only. Where there is no sewer accessible, such connections shall be discharged into cesspools or leaching basins or some other similar drain meeting the approval of the plumbing inspector.

Resolved, that the plumbing code of the city of Kingston be amended, and it hereby is amended as follows:

That a new section, known as Section No. 98, be added to and incorporated into the plumbing code as follows:

Section 98: Other provisions: In cases and instances covering the regulation of plumbing, venting, including the materials, workmanship and manner of executing such work which are not specifically covered in and regulated by the plumbing code of the city of Kingston, the plumbing code of the New York State Department of Health, as recommended by the New York State Board of Health, in existence and in force at the time of the installation of the work to be regulated shall be in full force and effect in the same manner as if such New York State Department of Health plumbing code had been in detail and in full adopted into and made a part of the plumbing code of the city of Kingston, with the same penalties for violation thereof as are provided in the plumbing code of the city of Kingston.

These regulations shall become effective July 15, 1936. All previous regulations inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Hand by Plumbers

Regarding the amendment concerning the filing of a bond by master plumbers, they were previously asked to file two bonds, one for $5,000 and one for $1,000, required by the plumbing board.

According to Secretary Charles Gregory, there was a legal tangle always pending with this sort of arrangement, which is eliminated now with only one bond being required. The amount of this is $1,000. It must be renewed every year. A copy of the amendment also appears in full in tonight's paper.

Plumbing Inspector Gregory stated he had received good cooperation in enforcing the recent ruling of the health board prohibiting the use of gas heaters not connected with a flue.

The Central Hudson Gas & Electric Company filed a letter, explaining that it would lend every effort to uphold the regulation.

Dr. Harold Rakov suggested that the board go on record as in favor of banning the sale of fireworks, the matter now up for consideration by the Common Council. "I'm bringing this up because a number of children have spoken to me expressing a desire to see the hazards of the Fourth of July reduced."

"Were you ever a boy?" asked Dr. Hill of Dr. Rakov. "When I was I thought the Fourth of July was one of the blakest celebrations of the year. I don't see any reason why we should take any action regarding the sale of fireworks."

The matter was put aside by the board until later.

Regulator's Report

Miss Mildred Schwab, the regulator, reported the regulation of the water level.

There will be a meeting of the board of the city this evening at 8 o'clock at the Trade and Labor Council rooms, 284 Wall street. All businessmen and master workers of the city are requested to attend the meeting.

Arrest of Murdock

The arrest of James Murdock, 24, of Arena by Officers Leonard and Burger last Saturday when they found Murdock peddling cigarettes at the Short Line terminal, has cleared up a series of burglaries not only in Kingston but also in the town of Ulster according to the Kingston police and Sergeant James Cunningham of the State Troopers.

Another burglary in Connecticut is also accounted for by the apprehension of Murdock, a former dishwasher at the Plaza Restaurant on John street.

Arrested on a technical charge of disorderly conduct by the Kingston officers when he attempted to sell cigarettes bearing Connecticut stamps, Murdock gave his name as John Harris and said he was from Canton, Conn. Questioned by Sergeant Phinney however he gave his right name and also made a statement as to his activities in Kingston.

Sergeant James Cunningham and Troopers Keefe, Kelly and Metzger, who were having an uncomfortable time through the series of burglaries at the gas stations on the Plank road just across the city line in the town of Ulster, were called in on the case by Sergeant Phinney and together the officers discussed the series of burglaries with Murdock and took statements from him.

In addition to the burglary of the Plaza Restaurant on April 2, when $23 was missing, and another burglary there in which a small sum of money was taken, Murdock, it is alleged, told the officers that he broke into the Amoco gas station on North Front street and took a flashlight on June 7 or the early morning of June 8 he told the officers he paid his first visit to the town of Ulster and entered the Texaco gas station and Huling's Barn. From the gas station he denied taking the $100 which was missing but said he took a smaller sum.

After the burglaries there he left the vicinity of Kingston and was in New York and later in Boston, according to his story. Again on the morning of July 6 he returned to Kingston and that night or the early morning the Esso and Texaco stations across the viaduct were again entered. That time a small sum of money and some cigars and other articles were reported missing. Five Troopers were sent to investigate and found the places had been entered by the same man who used a method as on prior visits.

Murdock told the Troopers after the robbery at the gas stations he went to Port Jervis where he slept in an orchard and then hitch hiked his way back to Connecticut where he arrived on July 8 at Canton. Canton Inn was robbed of cigarettes and presumably they were the ones which were offered for sale by Murdock on July 11 in Kingston when he was returned to Kingston.

At the time of the arrest in Kingston by the two local alert police officers there was a warrant in the hands of Trooper McGraw in Delaware county for the arrest of Murdock for violation of parole from Delaware county court where Judge O'Connor had sentenced Murdock to 18 months for a burglary. He had been suspended execution of sentence during good behavior.

Sergeant Cunningham expressed the opinion that with Murdock in jail awaiting trial of the grand jury, gas station operators on the Plank road across the Washington avenue viaduct might rest easier at night while their stations were closed for business.

There will be a meeting of the board of the city this evening at 8 o'clock at the Trade and Labor Council rooms, 284 Wall street. All businessmen and master workers of the city are requested to attend the meeting.

New Regulations to Bring About Safer Highway Conditions

A number of new regulations will shortly be put into effect by the newly authorized State Traffic Commission in an effort to bring about safer highway conditions. The new commission is headed by State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Hartnett and includes Major John A. Warner, superintendent of state police, and Capt. Arthur W. Brandt, state highway commissioner. While the commission will begin to function on September 1, preliminary plans for a highway safety campaign have already been started.

At a preliminary meeting standardized traffic signs were discussed and the installation of traffic lights at congested points on highways outside of cities and villages came up for consideration. Under the authority granted the commission no new traffic lights may be erected after September 1 without first receiving approval and the commission may order lights now installed removed and others placed at new points if so desired.

The commission has been granted $20,000 for its expenses in carrying out the work.

One of the chief features of the commission's authority is to regulate speed of motor vehicles outside of villages and cities. It also has power to penalize drivers for violations of regulations and authority to inspect motor vehicles as to their safety.

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

Screams Scare Negro

Screams that attracted a roadstand operator were said to have prevented an attack on Mrs. Joel Hill (above), farmer's wife living near Alexandria, Ala., when she was approached by an unidentified negro. The fleeing negro was sought by possemen, and National Guardsmen. (Associated Press Photo)

Air Lullaby.

Wilmington, Del.—Problem: Mr. and Mrs. A. Felix du Pont, Jr., wanted to take their four-months old A. Felix du Pont, third, along on their sea-plane flights from Easton, Pa., to Cape Cod, their summer home.

Solution: A specially constructed cradle.

Result: Another aviation enthusiast.

When It Rains.

Houston, Mo.—"I hope we all get a good soaking before I'm through here," said Mayor Lloyd Stark, Democratic candidate for governor, in a campaign speech on the courthouse lawn. In 15 minutes it was raining. The last time it rained here was the day of a speech by Jesse W. Barrett, Republican candidate for governor.

R. S. V. P.

Houston, Texas—A postman ceremoniously laid a letter on the desk of Grady C. Fuller and when Fuller opened it he found an invitation to a party given by a friend of his.

But he couldn't go. The party had been over for some time. Uncle Sam's ordinarily swift mails had taken slightly more than 10 years to deliver the invitation, postmarked May 10, 1926, twenty miles away.

Maybe Softer Than Home.

Lincoln, Neb.—Some 350 heat-plagued citizens have been plodding nightly to the $5,000 patch of green around the state capitol to sleep, presumably to take advantage of the open air and the cool grass.

Some officials have complained that the sleepers might ruin the lawn, kept up at an annual cost of $3,000, but nothing was done about it because of the heat.

Excitement resulted, however, when early risers found some of the outdoor fans sleeping under blankets.

Mrs. Bryant Hanged On British Gallows

Exeter, Eng., July 15 (AP).—Mrs. Charlotte Bryant, 33-year-old mother of five children, was hanged today for the poison murder of her husband last December.

She was the second mother to die on the gallows in England this year. Dorothea Waddingham, executed April 16 for poisoning two women patients in her nursing home, also had five children.

Mrs. Bryant, shortly before her death, telegraphed a last appeal to King Edward asking the monarch to "have pity on your lowly, afflicted subject."

Testimony at Mrs. Bryant's trial disclosed that a love affair with an itinerant horse dealer led her to poison Frederick John Bryant, 39-year-old farm laborer.

The execution was advanced one hour to prevent any demonstration around the Exeter jail.

Mrs. Violet Van Der Elst, feminine opponent of capital punishment, drove up to the door of the jail in a cream-colored automobile and attempted to address the 1,000 persons outside. She had barely started to speak when a policeman mounted the running board of the car and forced her to drive away.

Mrs. Van Der Elst was later fined $5 ($25) for interfering with the duties of a police officer. A summons charging breach of the peace was dismissed.

Open Bids for the Road at Windham

The State Department of Public Works opened bids for several state highway jobs on Tuesday. Among them was the contract calling for the construction of the Hunter-Windham road in Greene county, 8.2 miles in length. This was the largest project on which bids were received. Bids were: Mayer Construction Co., Erie, Pa., $172,364; Oneida and Gervasi, Inc., of Torrington, Conn., $174,746; Peckham Road Corp., White Plains, $176,407; and Lane Construction Company, $192,276.50.

R. G. Miller, Inc., of White Plains, was the low bidder for the Parkville-Coleby road in Sullivan county, a distance of 3.34 miles.

None of the other 15 contracts was in this locality.

The State College of Agriculture at Ithaca issued a statement declaring that "even a generous supply of rain cannot make the damage already caused some state farm crops by the soaring temperatures and drought."

They said, "Small grain crops failed. New seedlings are gone in the parched areas; corn crops are hard hit. The advanced season with the exception of a few vegetables, does not permit of another planting. Fruits are expected to be light in most sections."

FAITH
Over the hills and far away
Beyond the mountains stark and gray:
What does it matter where I be
When Ansel cometh seeking me

Down in the depths of a hidden mine
High on the hills where watch fires shine
Or a drifting wreck on a shoreless sea
When the angel of death comes seeking me.

Dim are the eyes and dull the ears
That mark the passing vanished years:
Let high or low on land or sea
Still shall I hear when he calleth me

Welcome the shadow of his wings
Welcome the message that he brings:
He cometh down to set me free
For He that sent him loveth me

Heed not the thunder's sudden roll
Fare forth rejoicing O my soul!
Over the hills and far away
From gloomy night to endless day.

ALAN MACKENZIE
Rosendale, July 15, 1936

Charity.
Could we judge all deeds by motives, see the good and bad within.
Often we would love the sinner, all the while we loathed the sin.
Could we know the power working to overthrow integrity.
We would judge each other's errors with more patient charity.

First Clerk—I'd like to sell you a set of encyclopedias that I got as a gift.

Second Clerk—No sale. I know more than any encyclopedia.

First Clerk—I admit that. But I thought you'd get a thrill going through it and picking out all the errors.

The man who minds his own business usually has a good mind—and a good business.

Friend—Don't throw in your line.
There's no bait on the hook.

Fisherman—Can't help that; the fish won't wait.

To date it is a little difficult to say whether we really got out of the depression or the government just took it over.

Shorty—Once I worked in a large factory.

Cramer—Didn't the noise drive you frantic?

Shorty—No, it was a factory where they stuffed feather pillows.

There probably never was a person who snored that didn't feel that those who mentioned it were not lying to him.

Magistrate—What started the trouble between you and the plaintiff?

Defendant—Well, your Honor, it was just like this. He threw his beer over me, and I hit him across the face with my bag of tools—then he cuts my head open with a bottle —and the next thing I knew we found ourselves quarreling.

Vacations are like other things.
Forethought usually enables one to spend them most profitably.

Barber (to customer)—Haircut, sir?

Customer—No, just lower my ears.

Daughter—Daddy dear, Richard and I are truly two souls with but a single thought.

Father—Well, my child, don't be discouraged; that's one more than your mother and I had when we were married.

Even the most fortunate of us can have only a few things. The man who knows upon shoving everything is likely to wind up with nothing.

Neighbor—Why does Pennington always wear his hair pompadour style?

Stanley—Oh, he likes his comb so well that he refuses to part with it.

Here is something else to try to
laid end to end would reach how far?

Deputy—Your Honor!

Judge—Yes, my man.

Deputy—As you know, No. 289-
764-B is to be hanged this morning.

Judge—You are right.

Deputy—But he wishes it postponed, your Honor.

Judge—And what are his reasons,
my man?

Deputy—Well, he has a boil on his neck, and he fears the rope may open it and cause infection. He even intimates, your honor, that it might prove fatal.

Another example of wasted effort is the lovelock swain who writes poems to his fiancée's eyebrows while she is at home plucking them out.

Mr. Husband—You women can't drive a nail.

Wife (sweetly)—Maybe not, but we are wonderful at nailing the lies our husbands try to tell us.

Just when a man gets to like a hat, his wife tells him that he needs a new one.

SUMMER NONCHALANCE

Carefully Dressed In Careless Clothes

Beyond the fact that summer offers weather conditions that permit the full enjoyment of the outdoors, another pleasant feature is that it gives most men the opportunity to don clothes that are essentially built for comfort. It almost presents a legitimate excuse for carelessness in dress. By this, we have no intention of encouraging sloppiness. The effect that is desired can probably best be described by the use of the high-sounding word "nonchalance."

In summer clothing for all types of recreation and diversion, this is the desired quality. Of course, much depends on your particular tastes in the direction of these aforementioned diversions. The sort of thing we've portrayed here, amidst the pleasant surroundings of the tennis club, calls for some care in the selection of apparel. On the other hand, if you go in for the back-to-nature sort of thing, the avoidance of any emblance of overdressing is not only proper but intelligent.

Natural linen has just the right texture and just enough nonchalance in appearance to make the perfect midsummer sport jacket. This two button, notch lapel, single-breasted model might have a half-belted back or might be made plain back with a deep center vent.

All-white and solid color shirts are most appropriate with summer sport clothing. The favorite oxford weave now boasts of the advantage of sanitizing, avoiding the discomforts caused by shrinkage, while other plain fabrics are air-conditioned, their porosity making them ideal for hot weather wear.

With plain shirts neckwear may be rather fancy, but not necessarily loud. Large Persian patterns in subdued madder colorings make smart four-in-hands and the unique plaids of hand-printed India handanna cloth are popular with men of discrimination.

While there are many shoe models to choose from for midsummer country and resort wear, the two we've shown here are highly fashionable.
The all-white buckskin with gum-rubber sole is an excellent shoe for all purposes except dancing, in which case a leather sole would be preferable. The smartest and newest of shoes is this brown and white Norwegian model, being particularly favored this year.

Two hats with but a single thought are those shown here. Both provide sure protection from the heat and smart appearance, particularly with country clothing, and they will not weigh down too heavily on the old pate. The Panama (at the right) is worn with turned up brim and might carry a narrow fancy band to be smart this year. The coconut straw hat (at the left), produced by the natives of Nassau, has a graceful wide band which may be solid color or made in a fancy India madras pattern.

The World of Stamps

By QUINTON JAMES

Celebrating the sixth anniversary of King Carol's accession to the throne of Rumania and appearing simultaneously with the annual national sports meeting, seven modern examples of the stamp art have been added to the roster of that Balkan country.

The designs show native costumes from various parts of the land, worn for the most part by girls. In the background are scenes from these sections. Each stamp bears a surtax, apparently to help defray the expenses of the sports meeting.

The young women illustrated, together with the attire and headgear peculiar to their divisions of the country are. Girl from Oltenia on the 50 plus 50 bani brown; girl of Banat, on 1 plus 1-let violet; girl of Silistria on 2 plus 1-1 dark gray green; girl from Hateg on 2 plus 1-1 carmine, and girl from Neamt on 6 plus 2-1 gray brown.

For Gorj, a 4 plus 2-1 vermilion, the motif is changed and a native youth is shown. On the highest value, 10 plus 5-1 blue, a man and a woman are standing side by side.
They represent Bukovina.

The stamps are dated June 8, 1936, and the total printing is reported to be 100,000 sets.

Stamp Concentration

Starting a stamp collection is a simple process; it's merely a matter of getting some stamps together and segregating them by countries in some sort of an album. Generally the beginner has the ambition, now almost impossible to realize, of getting a comprehensive group of adhesives from all over the world.

As a rule, this plan can be carried out just so far. Then it strikes a snag. Stamps become more difficult to obtain; they either are beyond the average pocketbook or they cannot be located because of their scarcity.

That leaves the collector only one thing to do if the hobby is not to become top heavy. He generally falls back upon stamp concentration, that is he confines his collection to a particular division of the world or even to a single country.

From the standpoint of availability of the stamps, probably one of the easiest countries to collect is Italy. Altogether this country has issued approximately 1,200 stamps of various classifications such as postal, semi-postal, airmail, postage due and the like. Including the earliest issues, it is possible to assemble practically a complete layout of this country at not too great an outlay of cash if the collection is confined to used varieties. Later on colonies may be added as the main country approaches completion.

Germany, Too

Germany is another country of Europe for which a large part, if not all of the stamps it has issued since 1872, as empire and republic, are not difficult to obtain. More than half of the 1,000 or more types of stamps it has printed are available in pocket form. Only here and there, as with Italy, are there items with a cost rating above $1.

France also can be added to this "easy" group if only the issues after 1862 are considered. Even before that date, many of the stamps are obtainable at not too great an outlay, although there is the 1-franc of 1845 which is catalogued at $500 used and $1,000 unused. Expansion is possible by including the colonies after most of the 750 or so stamps printed by France have been located.

Among some of the other countries that fill up an album quickly are Poland with its approximately 550 varieties since 1918, Estonia with around 200 and Liechtenstein with about the same number.

But the quickest and simplest to collect is White Russia. Only 10 stamps were issued for this world division and they are worth today but a penny apiece, unused.

Arnold Is Asked To Exhibit Works

Woodstock, July 17. —A. Grant Arnold has been asked to have a one-man show of lithographs in Tulsa and Oklahoma City this fall.
While visiting in Woodstock Mrs.
Nan Sheets, state supervisor of the federal art project in Oklahoma, viewed his exhibition in the Little Art Shop. Mrs. Sheets is also an artist herself as well as a critic and lecturer. She maintains the only art gallery in Oklahoma City, a gallery which is making a name in the art world by the excellent quality of the work shown there. Upon seeing Mr.
Arnold's work she requested that he send 30 or 40 lithographs for an exhibition which will take place in the coming season.

Mr. Arnold has also been asked to send three lithographs to the Art

Maryland Governor on Boat in Collision on Chesapeake Tuesday

Baltimore, July 15 (AP)—Gov. Harry W. Nice and 250 passengers of a passenger vessel which collided violently with a freighter off Seven Foot Knoll landed safely here early today, bringing accounts of a harrowing night on the Chesapeake Bay.

Scores were jolted and some were bruised slightly in the impact of the vessels, the bay passenger boat, State of Virginia, and the freighter, Golden Harvest, in the darkness between 10:30 and 10:45 p. m. last night. None was believed to be seriously injured.

A floor show was in full blast at the time of the crash aboard the State of Virginia, which was bringing a Baltimore association of automobile dealers into port from a two-day sea-going convention. Blasts of the ship whistle cut short the fun-making.

Some of the girls in the floor show became hysterical. A few of the men aboard knelt in prayer on the deck.

The ferry boat Pittsburgh brought the rescued passengers into port at dawn. It had taken them from the decks of the freighter, to which they had hastily been transferred from the passenger boat after the collision.

The State of Virginia and the Golden Harvest were left still locked tightly together hours after the collision. Capt. W. I. Woodall of the ferry boat said the freighter had pushed the steamer aground to keep it from sinking.

Governor Nice, smiling broadly as he came ashore from the ferry boat, told of the crash as follows:

"It occurred about 10:45 p. m. off Seven Foot Knoll. Everyone was in the main salon when the crash came. The next thing we heard four blasts of the boat whistle and men rushed to their staterooms."

"The freighter struck us on the port side, near one of the state rooms. The bulk of the freighter crashed clear through the stateroom and broke several pipes."

"I was sitting on a chair near the top of the stairs when it happened. The impact knocked me from the chair and everybody around me was either knocked down or jolted."

"We rushed down the stairs and there was a great deal of excitement. However, there was no hysteria among the many women passengers or panic."

"The captain of the Golden Harvest had the presence of mind to keep his motors running to keep the nose of his ship against the hole it had bored in our boat. It was two hours before we got help."

The governor said the only injury he received was a bruised arm. Others reported similar hurts.

ANOTHER LARGE CROWD AT THE GLICK SHOWS

The Glick Shows, running at the Kingston Airport field, under the auspices of Excelsior Horse this entire week, drew another large attendance, Tuesday, and expectations of the firemen and the operators of the various concessions at the carnival are that the attractions will do a rushing business every night.

Jerry O'Brien, high diving sensation, featured by Glicks, thrilled his large audience again last night, and indications are that his act and the rest of the water show will continue to prove popular for the rest of the carnival's engagement here.

RELIEF FUNDS VOTED AS 'HUNGER MARCHERS' WATCH

In the presence of a boisterous crowd of jobless who had marched into Harrisburg from a dozen or more counties, the Pennsylvania state senate broke a deadlock that shut off unemployment relief and agreed to appropriate $45,000,000 for payments until the end of January. New Auto-Railer Latest Aid to Transportation

Newly-invented new in transportation. A vehicle that travels with ease on rails and on the highways. Developed after more than two years of engineering research by the Evans Products Company of Detroit, and now in production, this Reo Gold Crown-powered combination rail-highway vehicle adopts the flexibility and economy of automotive principles to rail use.

Equipped with retractable pilot wheels, front and rear, the auto-railer travels on the rails on its pneumatic tires. It is held there by the flanged wheels on the pilot axles. Exceptional tractive ability and ease of riding result from this principle, according to the manufacturers. The vehicle moves and leaves the rails at any grade crossing without coming to a stop.

Freightliners were added to the Reo Motor Car Company's long list of trucking accomplishments when it was selected to co-operate in supplying a power plant and chassis for the new Evans-designed product. An engine and chassis were required that would give good term, economical and carefree service—Reo got the call.

This latest development of E. S. Evans adds to a long list of progressive Evans inventions adopted by railroads during the past twenty years.

AT SUMMER THEATRES

"Three Corners Moon", a comedy in three acts, presented by the Group Players of the New Barn Theatre, Saugerties, last evening with the following cast:

Kenneth Rimpiegar Alfred Rapetti
Douglas Rimpiegar Joseph Wiseman
Elizabeth Rimpiegar Rachel Minciotti
Ed Rimpiegar Ralph Norton
Mrs. Rimpiegar Ernestine Minciotti

Donald Glenn Carroll
Mr. Stevens Tony Danzig
Kitty Leane Wilbur

The Group Players of the New Barn stumbled against two difficult obstacles last night, the tropical heat wave that has engulfed this vicinity for over a week and the unfortunate fact that the stock companies occupying the Barn in 1934 and 1935 faltered and failed and closed shop after two weeks of playing. Consequently the show last night was something of an event for it marked the opening night of the third week of the Group Players and Ernestine Minciotti, the director of the Group, took time out before the third act curtain to inform the adequate audience that this year's troupe was here to stay and that last night's opening delivered a convincing knockout to the gossip that no company could last at the Barn for over two weeks.

"We feel that this vicinity needs and wants a first class summer theatre," said Miss Minciotti, "and we are here to give it to you." "Three Corners Moon" shone with a fitful radiation last night, and, as Miss Minciotti admitted, during her curtain speech, the production had a few rough edges that had to be filed off before the show became a polished product. A domestic comedy, the play delves into the wild and eccentric activities of the family Rimpiegar. Once the possessor of great fortune, Mamma Rimpiegar sank all her money in ill chosen stocks and when the play opens, the Rimpiegar family is in the depths of despair. It seems that somebody is going to be forced into working for a living, a situation which causes great consternation.

The Rimpiegar children decide to be breadwinners but they are also a little perturbed because sister Elizabeth has dragged home one Donald, a novelist with dreams and nothing more. Donald pays no rent, is engaged to Elizabeth, enjoys eating and is nauseated by the thought of earning money. The Rimpiegar children decide to get him a job. They do but Donald refuses to be bothered. And then the loving influence steps into the play in the presence of Dr. Stevens. Secretly in love with Elizabeth, he tries to bring the chaotic household into a semblance of order. His efforts are so successful that he wins Elizabeth away from the dreamy Donald.

The players worked hard last night to please and the show was unusually well handled for an opening night performance. The settings were effective and the location of the New Barn with its quiet charm and excellent acoustics helped materially to make "Three Corners Moon" an interesting endeavor despite the torrid evening. The production will be presented every evening this week with the curtain at 8:30. S.C.H.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Uster County Tuberculosis Hospital voted at their last meeting to request their friends to supply jelly and preserves for the children at Camp Happyland.

Jars may be taken to the camp or left at the home of the auxiliary president, Mrs. Frederic Holcomb, 188 Fair street.

The World

In a statement analyzing Chevrolet's success during the first six months of 1936, which saw new records established for four different months, and for the second quarter and the first half of the year, William E. Holler, vice-president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company yesterday gave credit to the company's nationwide organization of 10,000 dealers.

"The dealers share with the product itself and the manufacturing organization that has had to reach new production peaks to supply the demand, is the credit for breaking records that have stood ever since 1928 and 1929, the boom years of the industry," said Mr. Holler. "The end of the first half of the year finds Chevrolet dealers in a position to carry on profitably during the second half of the year. They are in a particularly favorable position with regard to used car stocks which they have reduced by 44,500 units during the last four months, in spite of the great number of cars taken in trade during these peak sales months."

The growing demand for Graham motor cars in foreign countries has resulted in an increase of 48 per cent in the number shipped overseas during the first six months this year compared to the first half of 1935, and the volume for the period this year has exceeded that of any similar period during the past six years, according to a statement issued by Robert C. Graham, president of Graham-Paige International Corporation.

So carefully balanced are the motors of the 1936 Cadillac and LaSalle cars, that the slight weight of a wad of chewing gum stuck on the flywheel would be detected immediately by the craftsmen who conduct the final motor tests. "Perfect balance is essential to the super smoothness that owners in the fine car field now take for granted," says Nicholas Dreystadt, general manager of the Cadillac Motor Car Company. "We go rather to extremes in guarding the characteristic smoothness of our motors. All of the piston and connecting rod assemblies in our motors are matched to a maximum variation of less than the weight of a small paper clip. Crankshafts are balanced to within 1-16th ounce, or about .00004 of their total weight, which is the same proportion that the weight of a single brick bears to the total weight of a 10-room brick residence."

Recognizing the increasing attention which the public is paying to smart looking delivery equipment and the business building value of such equipment to its owners as revealed in a study made by Ford designers, the Ford Motor Company today announced the availability of deluxe equipment on all its trucks and commercial cars. All units on 112, 131 1/2 and 157-inch wheelbase chassis are now obtainable at extra cost with ventilating back window, dome lamp, tandem windshield wipers, sun visor for driver, ash tray, chrome bumper, twin horns and hood chrome finish on the windshield frame, rear view mirror, and radiator shell and grill. Other types are furnished with most of these items.

Drives One Million Miles Without an Accident

To drive a million miles is something that is rarely achieved, except by only a very few persons. To drive that many miles without a major accident is even more rare. To drive this distance without even scraping a fender seems almost an impossibility. Yet B. W. Gibbs, a Gulf salesman of Collingswood, New Jersey, has just completed such a record. During nineteen years of driving motor vehicles in his work for Gulf, Mr. Gibbs has covered over a million miles, over all kinds of roads, regardless of surface condition, without a single accident of any kind. This unusual record is all the more remarkable because Gulf tabulates as chargeable accidents even such minor mishaps as damaged fenders.

Paul G. Hoffman, president of The Studebaker Corporation, reports total June sales of passenger cars and trucks, including export, as $2 per cent ahead of June, 1935. For the first six months, sales were 69 per cent ahead of last year. Retail deliveries of Studebakers in the United States only totaled 7,729 in June—an increase of 35 per cent over the 4,177 units delivered in June, 1935. This exceeds every June since 1928. Retail deliveries in June 1929 were 7,712—notwithstanding the large factory sales listed above.

Youth, 14, Youngest Commodore in U. S.

New York, July 15 (AP).—Four-teen-year-old Oliver Tweedy raised the bunting of the Bayville Yacht Club today on his "home made" sloop, reconditioned for $62 from a capsized wreck, and was saluted by his middle aged associates as the youngest yacht club commodore in the United States.

Oliver, who admits he "sneaked in" his store of yachting lore while his parents thought he was studying math and grammar, was elected commodore of the Long Island Yacht Club bid recognition of his service in creating a new interest in sailing among the members.

He has been sailing for only three years. No one else in his family sails, and although his father, Temple Tweedy, belongs to the club, he prefers motorcraft.

Last year Oliver won four races with his beloved "pick up," and this year captured six races in a row from yachtsmen many years his senior, sailing much larger and more expensive boats.

Two summers ago Oliver discovered the rotting hull of a boat on the beach off Bayville. He hunted up two previous owners and bought it for $22.

"They lost interest in sailing when they got married," Oliver said.

For three or four weeks that fall, young Commodore Tweedy worked on that boat himself, scraping, painting, and building and stepping a new mast. He changed the sail design, enlarged the sail area.

The first season Oliver, with his sister, Cleo, as crew, won the mixed handicap race from a field of twenty boats with his 16-foot craft and took three out of four others.

Slight, blond and sunburned, Oliver hopes to go to the United States Naval Academy and, perhaps, become a yacht designer.

The Northfield Conference of Religious Education, the fourth of the summer conferences founded by Dwight L. Moody 56 years ago, opened Wednesday with 400 Protestant church workers from all parts of New England, New York and New Jersey. The program calls for more than 30 classes meeting daily during the 10 days of the conference, with special events, such as musicals, addresses on Archaeology and Grenfell's work in Labrador, during the evening sessions. Afternoons are devoted principally in recreation. The gathering is interdenominational.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calumet—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks punk. Laxatives are only makeshifts. A more bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Barm-bies, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else, B.C.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By CLAUDE E. JACOBS

New York, July 15 (AP).—Selected stocks made headway against profit taking currents today, but irregular trends prevailed in late dealings.

Some traders seemed a bit confused over the boost in Federal Reserve Bank requirements. Financial sources, however, thought equities had been little affected by the raise.

Trading slowed near the final hour, although the total turnover was placed at around 1,800,000 shares.

Among gainers of fractions to a point or more were Chesapeake Corp., Chesapeake & Ohio, Great Northern, General Railway Signal, Eastman Kodak, Westinghouse, American Smelting, Associated Dry Goods, Columbian Carbon, Timken-Detroit, Auburn, J. I. Case, National Steel, Anaconda, Fajardo Sugar, Sun Oil, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Inland Steel and Phillips Petroleum.

General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Steel and Bethlehem slipped a shade either way. Down around a point or more were American Telephone, Western Union, Schenley and American Can. Consolidated Edison, North American and American Water Works were narrow.

Back to Germany

Lakehurst, N. J., July 15 (AP).—The dirigible Hindenburg, speeding across the North Atlantic toward its home base at Frankfurt-Main, left here four minutes after midnight today. It headed directly to sea, avoiding New York because of adverse weather conditions reported north of here. It carried 50 passengers, several more than normal capacity.

POLITICS at Random

THE dry spell in the west will have its political side, unquestionably. To date there is much dispute who will benefit, but the connection between the weather and the election returns is so well established as to be beyond controversy.

It used to be that good weather and good crops always were counted assets for the party in power, and vice versa. They meant farm prosperity, and that meant better business in flush years the voters were inclined to let well enough alone, and a party out of power was out of luck.

But that was before the days of recurring farm surpluses. When farm production passed the saturation point of consumption, and stayed there year after year, the bottom dropped out of prices, and bumper crops no longer were welcome politically. The farmer not only was disgusted, but he was broke as well, and the curtailment of his purchasing power made everybody unhappy.

The psychology of the situation turned a rather sharp corner early in the depression. The attempt to do something about the surpluses and to cultivate prices instead of production, began in earnest with the Hoover farm board. It continued by different means under the Roosevelt AAA. And nature seems to be taking a hand, too.

Opposing Opinions
WILL political psychology change again? Many politicians wish they knew.

One way of looking at it is to suppose that what has happened over a considerable area of the west will be a double blessing for the Democrats—that it will curtail production and raise prices at the same time it is giving the administration an opportunity to allot new benefits to the farmer.

In fact, some political thinkers have advanced the theory in recent weeks that a good weather map might be President Roosevelt's worst handicap in the farm country; that if crops were good and prices went down, the farmers would lose all confidence in Democratic assurances that the new soil erosion program offered an effective way out of the farm problem.

The other way of looking at it is to infer the dry weather will greatly help the Republicans. On this side the argument already is being made that the Roosevelt crop curtailment policies have greatly aggravated the effects of the drought and that the combined result may be to reduce available forage and other production to a hazardous point.

Besides, it is argued on the anti-administration side that still greater relief spending now will be forced, and that such spending has ceased to be popular.

Farm Problem Again

ANYONE who is interested can take his choice of these opposing arguments, but about one thing everyone can agree:

The drought has brought home once again the vital place of agriculture in the national economic structure and has demonstrated the political boss of agriculture is the weather man.

Whatever successive administrations may do, however they may figure it out according to the text-books or political expediency, the balance of power still rests with the sunshine and the rain, the floods and the dust storms, the eternal variety of nature.

It would appear that if these hazards ever are to be overcome, and if man ever is to become master of the forces of nature, the way will be pointed by science rather than by politics. That is so elemental even the politicians agree to it.

Yet what is being done about taking the farm problem out of politics? With every national campaign, it becomes more and more a part of politics, more and more a political issue; and the inexorable natural law which insures tomorrow's sunrise is no more of a certainty than is the prospect that the dry spell of 1936 will be in the center of the politics of 1936 before the campaign is much older.

deiphilums. The bridesmaids were Miss Martha Hewitson of Edgewood, N. Y., a college classmate of the bride, Miss Elizabeth Kerr of York, Pa., and Miss Virginia Stewart and Miss Barbara Van der Voer of this city. They were gowned in aqua mink and carried African daisies. Both the maid-of-honor and the bridesmaids wore flowered coronets. William Wonderly, a brother of the bride, acted as best man while the ushers were Walter Elston of this city, Hugh Elwyn of Schoenady and Woodstock, William King of Jamestown, N. Y., a cousin of the bride, and Ward Brigham of Cornwall-on-Hudson. Preceding the ceremony Miss Harriet Spink of Phoenix, and Hicksville, Long Island, sang "Estrellita" and "Calm is the Night." Then while the bride and groom were still kneeling at the altar following the benediction, Miss Spink rendered "Serenity." Frederick Richens, church organist, accompanied Miss Spink at the organ. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played. The ceremony was followed by a reception and buffet supper at the Governor Clinton Hotel from 7 to 8 p. m. Music during that time was furnished by Paul Zucca and his orchestra. Following a month's wedding trip to Canada, New England and Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Butz will sail on August 25 for Balboa, the Panama Canal Zone, where Mr. Butz is a chemical engineer engaged in analytical work with the Canal Zone filtration system. Extent to Which the Municipal Auditorium Used by the Public

The extent to which the Municipal Auditorium is used is shown by a report rendered to the building committee, which has charge of the building.

The report shows that not a day goes by but what there is activity of one sort or another there are a number of different things going on, during the day or at night.

A check of the report for the month of January, which is fairly typical, shows entries for every day, in there having been considerably over 100.

Among the activities listed it is noted that the WPA Band used the hall on 27 different days, the Federal Housing Administration, being at with 25. The City Service basketball team used the hall eight times, either for games or practice. The other teams and organizations used it 21 times for basketball purposes. Four community dances were held during January, and it was used six times, and it was used once for a card party. There was one large affair during the month, the Policemen's Ball.

Noticeable is the fact that outside the community dances, which had their way during the month, seven of the affairs brought in revenue to speak of.

Group of Five Submit Report to Lehman

Albany, N. Y., July 15 (AP)—A commission of four physicians and an attorney submitted a written report today to Governor Herbert H. Lehman on the condition of Mrs. Mary Frances Creighton, condemned to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison tomorrow night with Everett R. Applegate for the poison murder of Applegate's wife, Ada.

Appointed yesterday by the governor to determine the "physical and mental condition" of the Baldwin, La. I. housewife, the commission hurried to Sing Sing and examined the woman for more than an hour.

In naming the group to conduct a special inquiry, Governor Lehman gave no indication whether his action precluded a possible commutation of sentence. Prison attendants at Sing Sing have reported during the past few weeks that Mrs. Creighton was paralyzed with fear at her approaching execution and was able to retain only liquid nourishment.

Mrs. Creighton and Applegate were convicted of murder as the result of the death last September of Mrs. Applegate. The state charged the defendants fed her poison in an egg nog. Both families occupied the same house at Baldwin.

Governor Lehman conducted a clemency hearing for Mrs. Creighton and Applegate a short time ago, but reserved decision. He made no reference to Applegate yesterday in announcing the appointing of the commission to examine Mrs. Creighton. The members included his personal counsel, Charles Poletti; Dr. Frederick W. Parsons, state commissioner of mental hygiene; Dr. George Baehr, member of the state health council and physician to Mount Sinai Hospital, New York city; Dr. Joseph W. Moore, chairman of the parole board; and Dr. Clarence O. Cheney, medical director of the New York Hospital, Westchester division.

Mrs. Creighton's husband, John, and members of Applegate's family were at the prison when the commission arrived.

Alenists of the state lunacy commission found Mrs. Creighton sane a few days ago.

Called Charge Absurd

Los Angeles, July 15 (AP)—Mary Astor's divorced husband, Dr. Franklyn Thorpe, stood on the court reply "It's absurd" today while his attorneys framed a lengthier answer to her charge that he had another wife when he married her. The pretty film star's latest suit was her second sensational stroke in two days in a fight to gain full custody of their four-year-old daughter, Marily, who was awarded to the Hollywood surgeon when the couple was divorced last year. Previously the actress had accused her former mate of threatening to "scandalize" her publicly if she did not consent to the divorce. They were married in 1931.

Inflation Prevented

LEARN TO TALK WELL

How the telephone magnifies every defect in our talk! Bad speech sounds ten times trashier on the telephone than in a living-room.

Suppose a girl gabbles off some dull little-tattle such as "...and so he asks Helen could he come around that night, and golly, she already had a date, and was she ever out on the end of a limb..."

"Golly" and "out on the end of a limb" may be amusing slang phrases when some men say them. But they shatter the picture of a girl's femininity, charm, delicacy.

Sloppy pronunciation, always painful, is simply bloodcurdling on the phone. "She's so athletic that she's very zoopie" instead of all-LET-ic in three syllables, and SUP-ple to rhyme with "couple." Br-r-r!

Poor talk is a sure index of social rating. Anybody can buy a pretty dress and get a new hair wave. In make-up a good showing. But it's all wasted if they talk like ill-bred nobodies. Anyway, the listener on the phone can't see the dress or pretty hair.

Learn to talk well, and show yourself for the person you really are. You don't need years of college, just some new speech habits. Our 16-page booklet, "Improving Your Conversation," will set you on the right track. Titled on good topics, fact, statistics in English, slips in pronunciation. Your speech will improve in 30 days!

5 Seriously Hurt In Bus Crash Today

Larchmont, N. Y., July 15 (AP)—One man was near death and four persons lay seriously injured in New Rochelle Hospital today after a head-on collision of a Grey Line bus and a heavily laden beer truck on Boston Post Road here this morning.

Most seriously injured is Joseph Papa, address unknown, who was identified as a switch man of the New York terminal division of the Erie Railroad.

Riding on the front seat of the bus, Papa was thrown forward into the windshield and the tangled mass of wreckage which pushed up through the floor boards. He was unconscious at the hospital where the extent of his injuries was not fully determined.

Eight passengers and the driver of the bus were injured in the crash but the truck driver escaped unhurt. The bus, owned by Old Coach Lines, Inc., of 52 Elliott street, Boston, was bound west toward New York on Boston Post Road and was traveling at a moderate rate of speed, according to bystanders.

The beer truck, owned by the Feigenspan Company of Newark, N. J., was traveling east and swerved suddenly to within 12 feet of the left hand curb, when the driver, William Goos, said a small black sedan cut sharply in front of him.

Goos, who is 26, and lives at 343 North 12th street, Newark, said that as he swerved a bright sun flashed in his windshield and he did not see the bus.

Bus passengers were catapulted over seats as the two heavy vehicles met head-on.

Home Leaders Tounce Hurons by 13-7 in Free Hitting Game

Grunenwald Home Leaders tounded the Huron Indians last night in a loosely played game at the Athletic Field by the count of 13-7. Manager Baumgarten was forced to use his strategy proved to be of use as his boys were smacked and for a total of 13 hits. Eddie Bremer, who was not in top form, led the route for the Grunenwalds allowed 11 hits, while his mates were poked out singles and doubles the expense of Frank Neff, Rudolph and Hank Cragan.

Jimmy Turk led the Grunenwalds with three singles and accounted for three runs. Gadd, Hanley, and Van Deusen all garnered hits each. Frank Neff started the plate for the tribe with a long home run smash in the first with one and two more hits later in the game. In his fourth attempt he landed out.

One of these days, Adolph Kiefer says, he's going to see just how fast he can swim on his back. So far, 17-year-old "Sonny Boy" has been so busy breaking world records that he hasn't had time to take stock of himself. But Stan Brauninger, his coach at the Lake Shore Athletic Club, Chicago, has, and he's eager for the backstroke sensation to have his first taste of Olympic competition in Berlin this summer.

Kiefer is a Weissmuller on his back, says Brauninger, who predicts that Adolph will develop into the greatest swimmer of all time. Adolph established his first record a year and a half ago. Since then he hasn't lost a race and has defeated the best in competition. He holds just about every world and American backstroke mark. His record list reads like a time-table and he apparently hasn't exerted himself in establishing any of his marks.

"I just tell him to break a record and he does it," Brauninger explains. On a tour of Europe last fall with the Lake Shore championship medley relay team, Kiefer swam 33 times in 39 days and made 15 world marks. He got his first record two hours and 15 minutes after the ship docked at Hamburg.

Dad Threw Him In
There are two other younger Kiefers coming up at Chicago's Roosevelt high but "Sonny Boy" is going out for the Olympics not to bring glory to the family name, but to honor the memory of his father—dead five years.

"I've been swimming ever since Dad threw me into the lake when I was just a kid," Kiefer says. "He always wanted me to amount to something as a swimmer and now I'm doing it."

He doesn't add that his father might have been satisfied with what he has done so far. "This Kiefer lad is just a kid and maybe I expect too much of him," means the coach. "If I can ever get him down to serious business there's no telling what he'll do. He breaks records now and doesn't know it."

From Tank To Typewriter
Pity Katherine Rawls, whose aquatic feats are the stuff of great headlines are made, for the great little swimmer's ambition is to write—not made—the 8-column streamers.

Eighteen-year-old Katherine, late high school in June and is thinking seriously about turning her back on competitive swimming next fall to embark on a college journalism course.

She wrote for the high school publication: "Real good articles," vouches Mrs. Rawls, "make no mistake about that—Katherine has talent. And if writing is what she wants to do, why it is all right with us."

As for college, Katherine's choice lies between Florida State College for women at Tallahassee—"where so many of her friends will go"—and Duke University at Durham, N. C.

Hedricks, Berardis Will Play Tonight
The Hedricks and Berardis will cross bats tonight at the Athletic Field in an important City League clash. Both teams are undefeated so far in the second round and will be fighting for the top position. Joe Brown, the speedster, will probably get the call to start for the Hedricks while his opponent will be Big Jack Dodge. One of the largest crowds of the season is expected to gather at the field to witness a fast game.

Bowlers Will Meet Tonight at Y. M. C. A.
All managers, committeemen and officials, as well as bowlers, are urged to attend a special meeting at the "Y" tonight at 8 o'clock sharp. The meeting will be an important one inasmuch as sanctioning by the A. B. C. will be the topic of discussion.

Both city leagues will be represented and everyone interested in the progress of local bowling is urged to attend.

Olympic Team, 334 Strong, Sailed For Berlin Today on S.S. Manhattan

New York, July 15 (AP).—Hounded under the wire by signing a note to the whistle by pressing financial obligations, 334 of the U. S. Olympic team's 382 members boarded the liner Manhattan today to sail at noon for the Berlin games.

It took a good deal of private and public cajoling to do it, but the team sailed with its own expenses clear. An obligation of about $30,000 for running expenses remained but there was even some hope that this might be wiped away before the games are over.

The team will spend nine days on the water if the weather is clear. It is scheduled to reach Berlin July 25. This will give six days of practice before the games start August 1. Only three members of the women's swimming team were still trying early today to get the money necessary to sail. These were Iris Cumming of Redondo Beach, Calif.; Dorothea Dickinson and Elizabeth Ryan, both of New York.

All others had raised the $500 necessary to finance each member of the team.

The women's track and field team and the men's field hockey team, both of which faced extreme curtailment of their squads Monday, came through in great shape yesterday. The women raised their hopes by soliciting aid from public organizations and private interests, and the men got

AAA Softball League Yesterday's Results

The Central Hudsons won a close 7-5 decision over the DeMolays last night the Army diamond in their postponed game. Ed Strong and Gadd formed the winning battery while Lefty Buchanan tossed them over for the DeMolays.

Clark's home run smack and defensive play at third for the DeMolays were the highlights of the game.

There was another sparkling feature however, in the costumes that Manager Plough's boys wore—shorts.

The schedule for the second round in the A. A. A. Softball League is now in course of preparation by Secretary Warren Smith. The following games are slated for this week:

Thursday, July 16
Industrial and Club Division
Board of P. W. vs. Royal Arcanum, Haverbrook Park
Headquarters Battery vs. DeMolay, Barmann's Field
Montgomery Ward vs. Universal Road, Fair Grounds
Canfield's vs. Telcos, Armory Diamond
Central Hudson vs. Fuller Shirt, Block Park

Friday, July 17
Open Division
A. D. Rose vs. Chevrolet, Armory Diamond
C. R. Socials vs. Battery "A", Block Park
Altamir Ace vs. Studts, Haverbrook Park
Colonials vs. Appleknockers, Fair Grounds
Corb's Hose vs. Bye, Barmann's Field

Game Tonight
Tonight at the Armory diamond the Fuller Shirt team and Headquarters Battery will play off a game postponed from the first half. The Fuller also have a postponed first half game to play with the Board of Public Works. At present the three leading first half teams stand—games won and lost—Central Hudson, 14-1; B. P. W., 14-2; Fuller Shirt, 13-3. From these figures it will be seen that these postponed games are important in settling the final standings.

CHURCH SOFTBALL LEAGUE
Results Last Night
Comforter, 10; Fair Street, 7.
Presbyterian, 22; Redeemer, 10.
Game Tonight
Clinton Avenue vs. Port Ewen at Forsyth Park.
Hurley vs. Water Park at Armory No. 2.

20 Min. Defeat, Leaders
The Fair Street softballers set out to win their tenth straight game last night, but the Comforters changed their minds, handing the upstarts a 10-7 defeat. Heavy hitting featured the contest with Stan Winnie getting a triple and a homer for Fair Street, and Randy Kleider and Chet Barth hitting a homer and a triple respectively for the Comforters. Eddie Myers again showed the reason why he leads the Comforter battery, by connecting for four hits in four times at bat. Gordon Craig opposed Harold Clayton on the mound, with the Comforter reliever again blanking 20 hits off of Clayton's deliveries.

Park's Chief, Reducers
Six Parks made his initial appearance on the mound for the Presbyterian, and turned back the fast-stepping Redeemers by the score of 22-10. Earl Beck started to do the pitching for the downstarters but the barrage of hits that greeted him made it necessary for Klinghoffer to come to his rescue. However it was the same as shutting the barn door after the cows were out—the Presbyterian was the game.

Comforter vs. Redeemer
The postponed game between the Comforters and the Redeemers will be played Friday night, July 17, at 8:30 at the New Armory No. 2 diamond. Klinghoffer will probably do the pitching for the Redeemers with Craig or Hurley on the mound for the Comforters.

Dean, Cochrane May Play Today; Detroit at N. Y. For Double Header

(By The Associated Press)

For Frankie Fricch, like Micker Cochrane, it never rains but what it pours, as far as the bad breaks of this baseball year are concerned. It's getting so low, what with Daffy Dean's ailing arm and Dizzy Dean's head hurt, that no one can blame the peppy pilot of the Gas House gang if he begins to feel a little down on his luck.

Yet, as it turned out, the Deans weren't his only worries. With the lump Burgess Whitehead's line drive left on Dizzy's head last Saturday barely reduced to normal, another battered ball took Terry Moore, outfield star and heavy-hitter, out of action.

A freak hop by Brooklyn Babe Phelps' hit into the outfield sent Moore to the sidelines yesterday with an injured groin, out for a few days, at least. Terry's outfield mate, Pepper Martin, saved the day for the Cards, however, with a four-run homer in the last of the ninth for an 11-7 victory over the Dodgers.

The Cards took some solace in the victory, as Dizzy Dean may be back to pitch today, and as yesterday's triumph leaves them only a few percentage points back of the league-leading Cubs, who made it three out of four over the New York Giants with a 6-1 decision. Also scheduled to return to the baseball front today, along with Dizzy Dean, was that other hard-luck victim, Cochrane, who joins his Detroit Tigers for a doubleheader with the league-leading Yankees in New York, after a Wyoming rest cure for his jangled nerves.

The Tigers lost a good chance to pick up some ground on the idle Yankees yesterday by falling against hardworking Harry Kelley and the Athletics and going down 10-0.

Those clouting Cleveland Indians clubbed the Red Sox out of the first division and moved up to fourth place with a 5 to 1 victory for a clean sweep of the series. The Senators tightened their grip on third place, finding the sinking St. Louis Browns little trouble and emerging on the long end of a 13-5 count.

The Phillies, who seem to be finding themselves to some extent, outlasted the slumping Cincinnati Reds, 9 to 8. Woody Jensen's homer and Mace Brown's four-hit pitching enabled the Pirates to come from behind and stop the Reds 2-1.

Yesterdays STARS
By The Associated Press
Pepper Martin, Cardinals—Hit two homers, accounting for six runs in 11-7 win over Dodgers.
Woody Jensen and Mace Brown, Pirates—Former's homer drove in two runs as latter pitched four-hit ball for 2-1 win.
Harry Kelley, Athletics—Limited Tigers to seven hits.
Oral Hildebrand and Denny Galehouse, Indians—For their combined three-hit pitching against Red Sox.
Curt Davis, Cuba—Defeated Giants with seven hits.
Bill Atwood, Phillies—Drove in four runs against Reds with triple and two singles.
Buck Newsom, Senators—Pitched nine-hit ball in defeating Browns, 13-3.

BARMANN ALL STARS BEAT ATHLETIC ALL STARS, 13-2
The Barmann All Stars smothered the Athletic All Stars last night by the tune of 13-2. Bill Hank and Dave Nagel were opposing moundmen. Dave Nagel led the winners' attack with six hits.

The Newburghers were slow to start. And if the game had gone the same way claim that the Newburghers had a different ending. The "War" Convention, with the help of the local boys, the local boys are prepared to show the Newburghers that the length of a game is no difference.

Freddie Stahl, the Kingston return, will start tomorrow evening with Lou Nelson on the pitching and Paddy Edwards and Sam Foster will be on hand for duty with Newburgh. The Kingston aggregation will be led by the Dooland brothers and the entire team will be met at the Newburgh city limits and escorted to the stadium.

"I'M THE MOST CAREFUL DRIVER IN TOWN"

—HIS CAR IS NOW A WRECK

WHAT happened? This careful driver was safety-minded, of course. That is, he was when it came to having his engine overhauled periodically—his brakes, steering gear and lights checked regularly. But he never gave the tires a second thought until he heard a blow-out! He couldn't stop! He couldn't stop! Another accident that might have been prevented.

Luckily, this motorist was not hurt. But does it pay to gamble when blow-outs kill or injure thousands every year? Does it pay to be unconcerned about tires, when, by equipping your car with the new Goodrich Safety Silvertowns, you can enjoy real blow-out protection—at no extra cost?

That's because Silvertowns are the only tires built with the Lide-Saver Golden Ply—a layer of special rubber and full-floating cords, scientifically treated to resist the heat generated inside the tire by today's high speeds. By resisting heat, this amazing Golden Ply keeps rubber and fabric from separating. It keeps blow-outs from forming. And when you prevent the blow-out, you prevent the high-speed blow-out.

Isn't it better to be safe than sorry? Especially when Golden Ply Silvertowns cost no more than other standard tires. Come in today.

Duce Praised By Italy For "Secure Guidance"

Rome, July 15 (P).—Flag-draped Italy emerged today from 240 days of war sanctions with praise for Premier Mussolini's "secure guidance."

The Fascist party directorate celebrated suspension of the penalties for aggression against Ethiopia by sending 11 Duce a congratulatory message which said:

"After the victorious epilogue of African achievement due to your indomitable will, the end of the League of Nations adventure is consecrated with your complete victory of the right of Fascist Italy."

"The goal has been reached in a far from slackening pace which impels the people to march on under your secure guidance."

Mussolini ordered a nationwide display of flags to greet removal of the economic and financial blockade imposed last October and ended recently by the League assembly at Geneva.

Economic and political circles, however, feared Italy will operate on a virtually sanctioned basis for some time to come.

Four reasons were cited by commercial sources for this belief:

Mussolini, to carry out his determination to make the country as self-sufficient as possible, must reduce unnecessary and luxury imports almost to zero.

Italy naturally will continue to trade—as much as prices warrant—with nations which did not impose sanctions.

Vast stocks of raw materials, imported before and during sanctions at high prices, must be used up before regular trade may be re-established.

Italy's war manufactures will continue at a speeded pace to replace the fighting equipment and materials sent to the East African fronts.

There will be a regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary at the Memorial Building on Friday evening at 8 o'clock, at which time the nominating committee will present the names of the nominees for office in the organization during the coming year. ALLIGORVILLE Alligorville, July 15—Gardens and crops are suffering from the heat and drought. All are anxiously awaiting a rain.

Saturday afternoon a large seven passenger car heavily laden with people, baggage and some furniture, left the road and went down the bank in the old canal bed nearly opposite the Stanley Hall home. The car was from New York taking passengers to a Hebrew boarding house in St. John. None of the occupants was injured and the car only slightly damaged, but it was necessary to tow it to Anderson's garage in Accord for repairs.
